

Chesapeake Bay Program Communications Office Updates

Recently published:

- 4/01 - The first blooms bring the heat
- 4/06 - 2019-2020 Bay Barometer shows an ecosystem in mixed recovery
- 4/08 - How does wind impact the Chesapeake Bay?
- 4/15 - An annual event keeps Washington, D.C. streams healthy
- 4/19 - Providing safe passage for wildlife to cross roads improves the wellbeing of everyone
- 4/20 - Three scoops of pollution reduction

2019-2020 Bay Barometer:

Press release:

https://www.chesapeakebay.net/news/pressrelease/annual\_bay\_barometer\_shows\_mixed\_recovery\_of\_chesapeake\_bay\_ecosystem

Report:

https://www.chesapeakebay.net/documents/Bay\_Barometer\_2019-2020\_Web.pdf

Blog:

https://www.chesapeakebay.net/blog/post/2019\_2020\_bay\_barometer\_shows\_an\_ecosystem\_in\_mixed\_recovery

Photo album: <https://www.flickr.com/photos/chesbayprogram/albums/72157718858017378>

Coming soon:

May

- Creature feature: cicadas
- Webinar: Wetlands
- Florists of the Bay
- City Nature Challenge
- Climate change and wetland migration - Breck Sullivan

June

- Creature feature: Eastern milk snake
- Chesapeake Bay Awareness Week: Recreation
- Webinar: Recreation