

Lee Epstein- Lands Program Director and Special Counsel. Lee is responsible for directing policy, advocacy, and public education activities in support of the Chesapeake Bay Foundation (CBF)'s land use policy, land conservation, and stormwater management agenda, as well as interfacing with other CBF departments with respect to certain legal and regulatory matters. Prior to joining CBF, Lee started the environmental practice in a Maryland law firm; served as a Maryland Assistant Attorney General in the Department of Natural Resources; and worked as an environmental planner and branch chief in Fairfax County, Virginia's Planning Department. He holds a B.A. from Dickinson College, and both the Master of Urban and Regional Planning and J.D. degrees from the George Washington University. He has been engaged in Chesapeake Bay initiatives since the mid-1980's.